

GENERAL OFFENSIVE IS AT HAND IN WEST ZONE

Weakening of German Resistance in West is Seen and French Offensive is Expected to Be Signal For Renewed Activity — Russ Continue Advance — Germans Renew Offensive in Poland — Italian Officers Ordered to Dull Metal of Equipment — Attempt to Turn Russ Flank Fails.

By Associated Press. London, April 13.—Field Marshal Sir John French's message to his countrymen at home that "I know when the time comes for us to make our great move we can break through the Germans," and the British eyewitness statement yesterday that there are plain signs of the "gradual weakening of the German resistance," are accepted here as an intimation that the present steady pressure on the western front will shortly develop into events of vaster scope.

It is thus expected, that the next three months will be especially memorable in this epoch making war.

Military writers are of the opinion that the reported French successes between the Meuse and the Moselle, an important region stretching between the rival fortresses of Verdun and Metz, have given a promising opening for the spring campaign. They regard it as the signal for the general offensive movement.

General Joffre is giving another twist to the screw of the vice, where-with he hopes to grip the German positions of St. Mihiel.

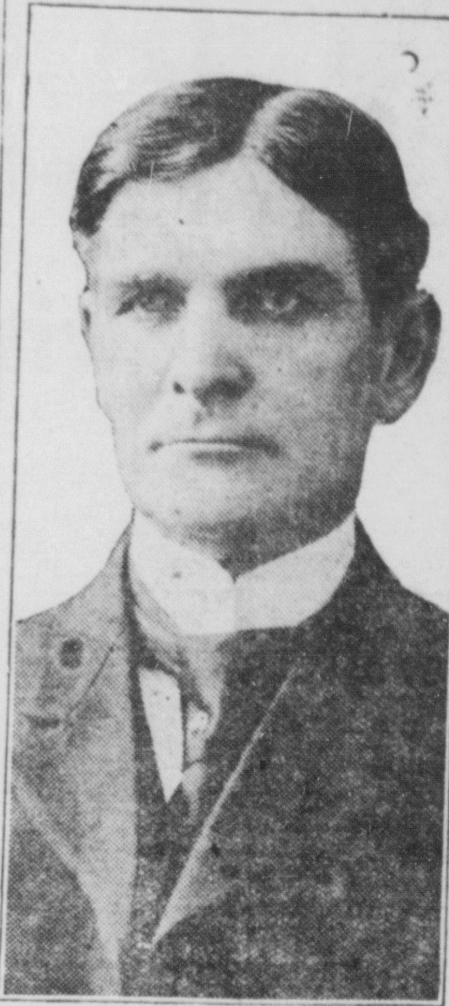

The Russian offensive in the Carpathians continues to meet a strenuous defense, and although it appears to be slowly winning its way toward the plains of Hungary, it has encountered enormous difficulty. To relieve the pressure on the Russians is an additional reason for the activity of their allies in the west.

The rumor from Cologne, that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg had asked for reinforcements to the extent of 300,000 men to undertake another campaign against Warsaw, is doubted.

The Wayfarer reached Queenstown in a sinking condition. The Frederic Franck was towed into Plymouth, and the President was still afloat when her crew of ten left her.

The Wayfarer, a liner of 6,200 tons, was the largest English vessel torpedoed since the war began.

New York, April 13.—It was reported today in Mexican circles that General Victoriano Huerta would hold important conferences here at once, to determine whether the time was ripe for Huerta to interfere in Mexico.

It was said that agents of the federal government here were keeping a close watch upon the movements of General Huerta, who arrived here yesterday from Spain.

RUSSIANS POUR INTO HUNGARY

London, April 13.—With the capture by the Russians of Hill 992 and the rest of the main chain of mountains the battle of the Carpathians, which has lasted upward of eighty days, has apparently come to an end over one extensive front, for the Russians are now moving by railways and roads along the rivers and streams down the southern slopes toward the plains of Hungary.

This movement, if it continues successfully, will, in the view of the Russian military authorities, compel the retirement with little or no fighting of the Austrians and Germans who are still north of the Carpathians to the east of Uzsook pass and in eastern Galicia and Bukovina.

PUTS BAN ON SCHAUPS

Berlin, April 13.—The imperial government will shortly issue a decree prohibiting the sale of distilled liquors in saloons. "Schnaps," the traditional drink of the German workman, is to be unobtainable until the war is ended. The order is not to be a temperance measure, however, but is made necessary to conserve the supply of alcohol. Fearing a possible shortage of potatoes, from which product most of the spirits are distilled in Germany, the government proposes to make the new order "work both ways." No opposition is looked for against the order when it comes up for the sanction of the reichstag at its next session.

DISCLOSURES IN THE CASSIDY CASE

Cassidy, former congressman now sought by his bondsmen in two federal receiverships, had more than $2,000 in cash with him when he disappeared last Monday, according to disclosures in the investigation of transactions just prior to the time he dropped out of sight. This development is regarded as refuting the theory that Cassidy left Cleveland to raise funds with which to adjust discrepancies in his accounts as receiver of the Cleveland and Pittsburg Coal company and the Standard Contracting company.

Mammoth Fishing Industry Threatened

The shortage of the catch of fish as the result of the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea has become a serious matter to Europe, the extent of which is little realized in America.

Europe has been compelled to depend largely on these fisheries for fish supplies, for in the limited territory which constitutes the North Sea fishing grounds are found more than half of the fish produced on all the fishing grounds operated by Europeans.

A recent issue of the Geographical Magazine gives out interesting statistics which impress the seriousness of the war's effect in bringing about this shortage of fish supplies, transforming, with its war zones and counter war zones, its mined area and hostile fleet, in a few months time the richest food producing areas in Christendom into a region upon whose mastery may depend the starvation of one or the other of two of the mightiest nations of the earth.

It is said that in times of peace no other like area in all the seas ever has given to humanity such rich supplies of food as this narrow strait, separating Albion from the continent of Europe. More than in any other known region of the oceans the food fishes of the marine world seem to love to congregate there.

The fisher folk of the North Sea tried the aid of every new idea of science and art to increase the annual supply and during the year before the present war the catch amounted to a million and a quarter tons of fish. Counting two tons to the truck load and 30 feet to the truck, this would make a procession of fish trucks reaching across the United States from New York to San Francisco, via New Orleans.

With almost uncanny increase has been the supply which seemed to rise to growing world demands.

Today a hundred thousand Englishmen, tens of thousands of Germans, Belgians, French, Dutch, Danes, Scandinavians all of them engaged in the North Sea fisheries, are out of jobs, and fishing boats now sweep the sea for mines instead of seining for fish.

The marine fisheries of Europe are vastly more important to European countries than those in the United States waters can ever be to the American people. This is partly because Americans have no fishing grounds in the Atlantic Ocean comparable in richness to those of the North Sea; partly because the time is far remote when the population of North America will equal in density that of Europe and the consumption of fish be so great.

In America fish forms but a minor part of the daily diet and, the extensive American-originated system of fish culture makes easy a catch of fish in almost any territory.

But to Europe the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea is a calamity. How much of calamity is shown by the fact that Great Britain annually absorbs 500,000 tons of North Sea fish, which means 22 pounds per capita. This per capita represents the difference between plenty and hunger unless other foods can be found to take its place.

The same condition applies to Germany. That country, in addition to using all its own catch, has annually imported more than a million and a quarter barrels from other countries around the North Sea.

Neutral nations, as well as the countries at war, feel the pinch of the fish shortage. Holland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark feel it sorely from a production standpoint.

Switzerland suffers more from the consumption standpoint, that country normally buying nearly a million dollars worth of fish from the countries that border the North Sea. The Orkneys and the Shetland Islands have almost no other activity than the fishing industry. In France the fishing industry is scattered among a great many small ports. Grimsby is the fishing capital of the world, with an annual output of perhaps 90,000 tons of fish and the feverish excitement of the stockyards district of Chicago. Here as a hundred trawlers with their great bins full to overflowing from their latest catch, row up to the fish dock, there is a swarming army of fishermen, porters, criers, dockers and packers, setting up an uproar that reminds one of an inferno.

The world's greatest middleman's fish market is at Billings Gate, for London devours over one and a half million pounds of fish every day in normal times.

But the war has curtailed the great fishing industry of the North Sea, put in jeopardy Europe's fish supply and deprived the countries at war and neutral countries of this food supply and the revenue it brings.

While, apparently, the North Sea fisheries are a side issue, and all connected with them, they are sharing in the wanton destruction of the present war.

THE FLUTES OF APRIL.

Don't you hear the flutes of April
calling clear and calling cool

From the crests that front the morning
from the hidden valley pool,
Runes of rapture half forgotten,
tunes wherein old passions rule?

Passions for the sweet earth beauty
hidden long and hidden deep Underneath the seal of silence in the vastness of winter sleep,
Now unleashed and now unloosed
once again to pulse and leap!

Don't you hear the flutes of April,
like the ancient pipes of Pan,
Summoning each slumbering kindred, summoning each drowsing
clan,
Sounding a far borne reveille to the
laggard heart of man!

Bidding every seed to quicken, bidding every root to climb, Thrilling every thw and fiber as
with some ecstatic rhyme,
Setting floods of sap to dancing upward in triumphant time!

Don't you hear the flutes of April
blowing under sun and star,
Virginal as is the dawning, tender
as dim twilights are,
With the vital breath of being pris-
oned in each rhythmic bar?

With their lyric divination, presci-
ence of all things fair,
With their magic transmutation,
guerdon for each soul to share,
Don't you hear the flutes of April
wafted down the April air?

Mammoth Fishing Industry Threatened

The shortage of the catch of fish as the result of the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea has become a serious matter to Europe, the extent of which is little realized in America.

Europe has been compelled to depend largely on these fisheries for fish supplies, for in the limited territory which constitutes the North Sea fishing grounds are found more than half of the fish produced on all the fishing grounds operated by Europeans.

A recent issue of the Geographical Magazine gives out interesting statistics which impress the seriousness of the war's effect in bringing about this shortage of fish supplies, transforming, with its war zones and counter war zones, its mined area and hostile fleet, in a few months time the richest food producing areas in Christendom into a region upon whose mastery may depend the starvation of one or the other of two of the mightiest nations of the earth.

It is said that in times of peace no other like area in all the seas ever has given to humanity such rich supplies of food as this narrow strait, separating Albion from the continent of Europe. More than in any other known region of the oceans the food fishes of the marine world seem to love to congregate there.

The fisher folk of the North Sea tried the aid of every new idea of science and art to increase the annual supply and during the year before the present war the catch amounted to a million and a quarter tons of fish. Counting two tons to the truck load and 30 feet to the truck, this would make a procession of fish trucks reaching across the United States from New York to San Francisco, via New Orleans.

With almost uncanny increase has been the supply which seemed to rise to growing world demands.

Today a hundred thousand Englishmen, tens of thousands of Germans, Belgians, French, Dutch, Danes, Scandinavians all of them engaged in the North Sea fisheries, are out of jobs, and fishing boats now sweep the sea for mines instead of seining for fish.

The marine fisheries of Europe are vastly more important to European countries than those in the United States waters can ever be to the American people. This is partly because Americans have no fishing grounds in the Atlantic Ocean comparable in richness to those of the North Sea; partly because the time is far remote when the population of North America will equal in density that of Europe and the consumption of fish be so great.

In America fish forms but a minor part of the daily diet and, the extensive American-originated system of fish culture makes easy a catch of fish in almost any territory.

But to Europe the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea is a calamity. How much of calamity is shown by the fact that Great Britain annually absorbs 500,000 tons of North Sea fish, which means 22 pounds per capita. This per capita represents the difference between plenty and hunger unless other foods can be found to take its place.

The same condition applies to Germany. That country, in addition to using all its own catch, has annually imported more than a million and a quarter barrels from other countries around the North Sea.

Neutral nations, as well as the countries at war, feel the pinch of the fish shortage. Holland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark feel it sorely from a production standpoint.

Switzerland suffers more from the consumption standpoint, that country normally buying nearly a million dollars worth of fish from the countries that border the North Sea. The Orkneys and the Shetland Islands have almost no other activity than the fishing industry. In France the fishing industry is scattered among a great many small ports. Grimsby is the fishing capital of the world, with an annual output of perhaps 300,000 tons of fish and the feverish excitement of the stockyards district of Chicago. Here as a hundred trawlers with their great bins full to overflowing from their latest catch, draw up to the fish dock, there is a swarming army of fishermen, porters, criers, dockers and packers, setting up an uproar that reminds one of an inferno.

The world's greatest middleman's fish market is at Billings Gate, for London devours over one and a half million pounds of fish every day in normal times.

But the war has curtailed the great fishing industry of the North Sea, put in jeopardy Europe's fish supply and deprived both countries at war and neutral countries of this food supply and the revenue it brings.

While, apparently, the North Sea fisheries are a side issue, and all connected with them, they are sharing in the wanton destruction of the present war.

"STAR—The Chew of Good Cheer"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

WHEN a ship loses its bearings in the dead of night, the crew are mighty glad to see the reassuring glow of the Lighthouse. And when real danger threatens—the life-savers man the boats, and human lives are saved.

Not many people envy the work of these men—they think it lonely. But these big bodied, able fellows have something that has proved an all-time antidote for loneliness for all men. Whether by themselves or with the "crowd"—they chew tobacco. And most of them chew STAR.

They chew STAR because of the complete comfort found in every plug. Because of the inimitable STAR quality, the honest weight and the thick, tightly packed, tasty plug that gives them more of the mellow chewing inside leaf.

After the "trial bite" you'll want STAR for a pocket-pal, whether you work all day in an office or in the great outdoors.

Join the great company of STAR BOOSTERS to-day—you'll find them good men and true—men who've made America the leading nation of the world and STAR, the world's biggest selling brand.

Poetry For Today

THE FLUTES OF APRIL.

Don't you hear the flutes of April
calling clear and calling cool
From the crests that front the morning from the hidden valley pool.
Runes of rapture half forgotten,
tunes wherein old passions rule?

Passions for the sweet earth beauty
hidden long and hidden deep Underneath the seal of silence in
the vasts of winter sleep.
Now unleashed and now unloosed
once again to pulse and leap!

Don't you hear the flutes of April,
like the ancient pipes of Pan,
Summoning each slumbering kind-
red, summoning each drowsing
clan,
Sounding a far borne reveille to the
laggard heart of man!

Bidding every seed to quicken, bidding every root to climb, Thrilling every thew and fiber as
with some ecstatic rhyme,
Setting floods of sap to dancing up-
ward in triumphant time!

Don't you hear the flutes of April
blowing under sun and star,
Virginal as is the dawning, tender
as dim twilights are,
With the vital breath of being pris-
oned in each rhythmic bar?

With their lyric divination, presen-
ence of all things fair,
With their magic transmuton,
guerdon for each soul to share,
Don't you hear the flutes of April
wafted down the April air?

Thinking about selling your house?

To get the greatest cash value for your property you should make sure that it looks in first-class condition. Repainting makes a world of difference in an old house.

A clean, fresh-looking house sells quicker and commands a higher price than the dingy place. The cost of the paint has been known to come back ten to one because of the greater desirability to the purchaser.

If thinking of selling, think also of painting and use "High Standard," the paint made to give best results.

CHILLICOTHE PRESBYTERY MEETING FULL OF INTEREST

LARGE NUMBER OF DELEGATES FROM ALL OVER DISTRICT IN ATTENDANCE — REV. GAGE IS NEW MODERATOR, AND MR. J. W. ROTHROCK IS ELECTED ELDER TO ATTEND NATIONAL ASSEMBLY — SPLENDID REPORTS RECEIVED FROM ALL CHURCHES.

The Presbytery of Chillicothe convened at 3 p. m. Monday, April 12, 1915, in the church at Washington C. H., Fayette county, Ohio. Owing to unavoidable delay in the arrival of the Moderator, Rev. S. I. Gear of South Salem, the Rev. T. C. Kerr of Bloomingburg, being the last preceding moderator present, called the Presbytery to order, after prayer.

The Lord's Supper was observed. The Rev. J. A. Miller, Synodical Evangelist, presided at the distribution of the bread and Rev. P. J. Henness of Washington C. H., at the distribution of the wine. After which the Moderator, who had arrived, preached the opening sermon from the words of the eighth verse of the thirteenth chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews, "Jesus Christ the Same Yesterday and Today, and Forever."

Presbytery was then officially constituted by prayer being led by the Moderator.

The roll was then made up by the Stated Clerk, Rev. Jas. G. Galbreath, of Waverly, O., and is as follows:

Ministers—W. B. Gage, W. C. Stinson, D. L. Chapin, J. G. Galbreath, T. S. Huggart, A. S. Kaye, P. J. Henness, Freely Rohrer, D. A. Kerns-Preston, W. H. Shields, T. C. Kerr, S. I. Gear, A. J. Marbet, Jas. L. M. McWilliams.

Ruling Elders—J. W. Rothrock, Washington C. H.; W. E. Parrett, South Salem; W. H. Miller, Pisgah; A. D. McCoy, Frankfort; W. A. Bonner, Greenfield; J. Noland, Hamden, John Williams, Wilksville; E. P. May, Kingston, H. F. Yockum, Morristown; A. L. Fullerton, Chillicothe, first; J. M. L. Welsh, Chillicothe, third; George Cave, Concord; M. L. Dickey, Bloomingburg; E. F. Brown, Bowersville; J. A. Clark, North Fork; C. C. Muhlback, New Market.

At the opening session the organization was effected by the election of Rev. W. B. Gage Moderator, and Rev. S. I. Gear, temporary clerk. The minutes of the last stated meeting at Hillsboro and the two called meetings at Greenfield, were read and the records thereof approved. The proceedings with reference to a county pastor for the church of Washington C. H. were reopened to a Judicial Committee consisting of Rev. W. C. Stinson, Rev. Freely Rohrer and Elder E. P. May.

Rev. F. A. Miller, of Washington C. H. and Rev. Phillips, of Chillicothe, were invited to sit as corresponding members.

In the evening thirty minutes of devotional and praise service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Miller, after which an interesting and instructive address on the subject of the Country Church Problem, was delivered by Rev. Dr. W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State University.

Wednesday Session.

The Presbytery convened in executive session at eight o'clock in the morning. One of its first acts was to request Rev. J. G. Galbraith, Stated Clerk, to send greetings to five older pastors, missed in the meeting—Rev. George Carpenter, former pastor in this city; Dr. S. D. Crothers, Greenfield; Rev. Robt. C. Galbraith, Chillicothe; Dr. W. J. McSurely, D. D., Oxford; Dr. M. D. A. Slein, of Worthington.

The opening devotional service was led by Dr. Henness, at 9 o'clock, one of the executive acts of the morning was the enrollment of the First Presbyterian church of this city upon the records of Presbytery as a Collegiate Church. Dr. Carey Persinger was then added to the list of delegates.

Various reports were listened to with interest. The commission appointed to organize a church at Fall Creek, reported that the church had been organized and placed upon the roll of Presbytery.

Dr. Shields, of Hillsboro, gave the report from Wooster University, and also reported for the committee on Narrative of the State of Religion, the report indicating a prosperous year.

Rev. Rohrer, of Greenfield, reported on Ministerial Relief.

One of the morning's session most important acts was the election of Rev. D. A. Kerns-Preston, of Bainbridge, as the ministerial delegate to the meeting General Assembly, to be held in Rochester, N. Y., in May, and Mr. J. W. Rothrock, of the First Presbyterian church of this city, the elder delegate from the Presbytery.

It is the ambition of every Elder in the Presbytery to represent that august body in General Assembly, and Mr. Rothrock is to be congratulated upon having that high honor conferred upon him.

Rev. Harry Hadley, of Martins Ferry, the only member who has been ordained in the ministry from the local Presbyterian church, was made a corresponding member of the Presbytery and the same courtesy was extended to Rev. F. E. Ross, of Grace church, who convened with the sessions.

At noon the Ladies' Guild served a delicious chicken pie dinner in the basement dining room of the church, the tables beautifully decorated.

The ministerial body relaxed from the day's business to enjoy a thoroughly social hour.

At the close of the dinner Rev. Mr. Pugh, Synodical Supt., of the Home Mission Board of Ohio, addressed the assembly, stirring to greater activity, zeal in this great work.

The Presbytery is engaged in its last session this afternoon.

AT THE PALACE

Annette Kellermann, The Perfect Woman in "Neptune's Daughter."

Annette Kellermann, the diving Venus is in the title role of "Neptune's Daughter," a spectacular photo-play which comes to the Palace Theater, Wednesday and Thursday, April 14-15, beginning with the Wednesday matinee. She will combine with her aquatic performance a dramatic exhibition that few people, perhaps, believe her possessed of. "Neptune's Daughter" is unquestionably one of the most magnificent photo-plays ever seen in America. In the eight parts which require two hours and thirty minutes for exhibition, there are hundreds of thrilling scenes of interest and rare beauty. Miss Kellermann has demonstrated in her appearance as a star in

"Neptune's Daughter" that she can do more than swim—she can act. Those who saw Miss Kellermann in vaudeville will see her to even better advantage when they gaze upon her as a mermaid in "Neptune's Daughter." It is safe to predict that no more beautiful picture has ever been seen on any stage than the transformation, wherein Miss Kellermann is changed by the power of the sea witch, from a mermaid to a human being. As a real mermaid, Miss Kellermann presents a most striking picture, and demonstrates the possibility of her swimming with ease and grace, although her feet and hands are tightly bound together.

Among the most thrilling and dramatically effective scenes is the desperate and sensational fight below the water, between Miss Kellermann and the villain.

This photoplay enjoyed the longest run in New York of any photoplay, playing at the Globe Theater for more than eight months.

"Neptune's Daughter" will be shown at the Palace Theater two days, Wednesday and Thursday, April 14-15. Matinee both days at 2:15. adv

The following clipping is by the financial editor of the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, Friday, April 2:

"Before the end of the year the capacity of the Burton-Townsend Brick company of Zanesville will have been doubled by the addition of new equipment to cost $500,000. This is interesting news to Columbus stockholders, who yesterday received their quarterly 1% per cent dividend on the preferred stock. The output of the present plant, combined with the new equipment, has been sold out for several months to come. With natural resources that are said to be unequalled, together with a coal mining property south of Zanesville that furnishes more coal than necessary for the operation of the plants, officials are pleased at the prospects. The earnings for the last quarter, according to reports, have been the largest in the history of the company."

STOCK FOR SALE.

We sell 7 per cent preferred stock in this Burton-Townsend Co., at par. It is non-taxable, non-assessable cumulative and participating — all desirable qualities for first-class stock. The stock issue will soon all be sold, so see us soon.

FOUR NOW DEFY THE GOVERNOR

Columbus, April 13.—Refusing Governor Willis' demand for their resignations, four members of state commissions sent some rather warm replies to the governor's letters.

There has been received in response to fourteen letters, by the governor only one resignation, that of C. C. Williams, Republican, of Wooster, from the agricultural board. Four, who have sent formal declarations that they will not resign, are Charles H. Bryson, Progressive, civil service commission, and all three members of the industrial commission, Wallace D. Yaple and T. J. Duffy, Democrats, and M. B. Hammond, Republican.

While the nine other officials have not yet made formal reply to the governor's request for their resignations, most of them have made public declaration that they will not vacate. They are expected to send in formal refusals this week.

Commissioner Hoskins, Democrat, of the civil service board, says he will resign, but that he intends to fix the date himself and that he does not intend to be in any hurry about it. Meanwhile the civil service commission is planning to investigate alleged violations of the civil service law by Governor Willis. Commissioner Bryson made sharp reply to the governor's letter in which the latter had defended his actions concerning civil service appointments.

Bryson's Reply.

In his letter declining to resign, Commissioner Bryson tells the chief executive he is wrong in assuming that he (the governor) is "captain" of the civil service organization. "The civil service commissioners, under the law, are the 'captains,' charged with the full responsibility of the entire work," he said. "The commission has its own lieutenants and the work is being well done. The governor has no official duties here. He has no business here."

M. M. Hammond, Republican, made the sharpest and most pointed reply of the three members of the industrial commission called upon to resign. He told the governor that though he (Willis) may be entitled to consider himself the chief spokesman for the majority who elected him, he is "not the only agency entrusted with the task of interpreting the will of the majority." He quoted freely from the governor's inaugural address and his initial message to the general assembly to show that the executive's attitude in demanding resignations is inconsistent.

Commissioner Yaple wrote the governor: "My hope has been that a spirit of friendly co-operation might prevail to the end that the victory which this department has fairly won in its long contest with interests adverse to those of the employers and the employees of the state might be secure. I still hope for such co-operation."

Governor Willis has not indicated what steps he will take to force compliance with his demands.

PRICE LOSES HIS POSITION

Columbus, April 13.—H. C. Price, Republican member of the agricultural commission, will not have a place after July 1. He was appointed by virtue of his position as dean of the agricultural college at Ohio State university. The law providing for the commission specifies that one member is to be dean.

Last Friday Governor Willis called upon the other three members of the commission for their resignations. Then, it was said, that because the law made the provision for the dean's appointment, the fourth member was safe from removal at the insistence of the governor. It has developed that the university trustees, at their March meeting, had asked Professor Price to step out as dean July 1. The action was kept secret. Losing his position as dean, Professor Price automatically would be barred from further service on the state board. No reason has been given by the trustees for their action.

KRON PRINZ WILHELM TO PUT TO SEA?

Newport News, Va., April 13.—Lieutenant Captain Thierfelder of the German converted cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which dashed into this port through a patrol of four enemy ships, declares that he will put to sea again in a fortnight.

The same determined spirit was evidenced by the German commanding officer in an informal conversation he had with Collector of the Customs Hamilton. To Collector Hamilton he intimated that he was obliged to hasten the work of repairing his ship because he must resume his naval duties at sea in behalf of his government.

There was a disposition here, however, to take with a grain of salt the German's declaration of his bold purposes. These were almost identical with the statements made by Captain Thierfelder of the Eitel Friedrich before he requested permission to intern.

It was learned from an authoritative source that despite the high speed which the engines of the Kron Prinz were able to develop in her dash for this port, she is in anything but a proper condition for a renewal of her long voyage. There are reasons for believing that Captain Thierfelder suspects his ship is leaking. The ship's boilers are also in bad condition and her sides dented in many places from the impact of enemy ships from which she coasted at sea. The same form of procedure followed in dealing with the Eitel was initiated by Collector Hamilton in interchanges with Captain Thierfelder.

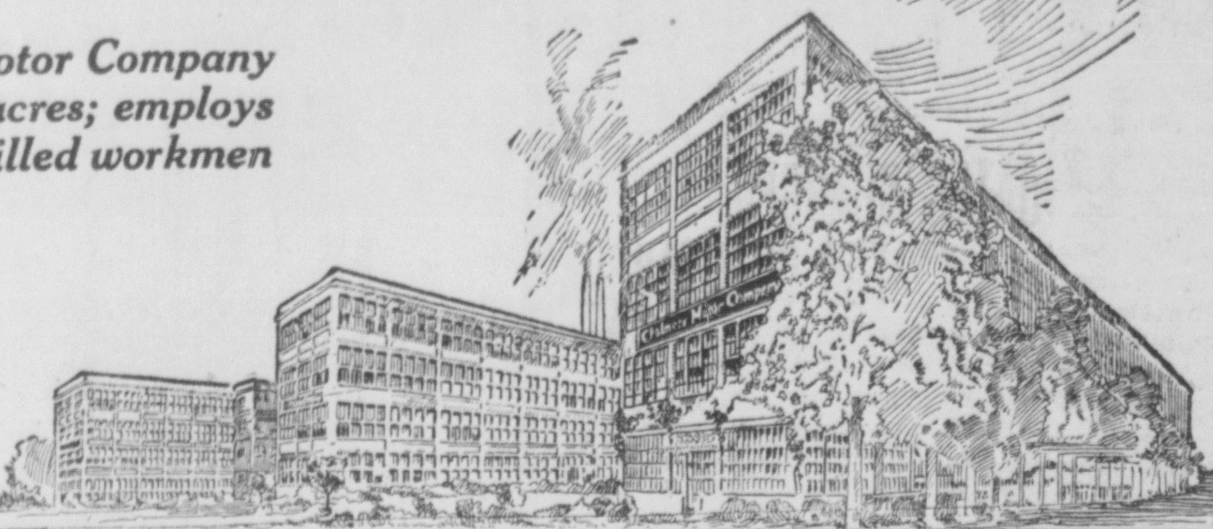

HAS PRAISE FOR PRESS

New York, April 13.—Newspapers are the greatest moral force in the community, Billy Sunday told the crowd which jammed the New York Press club to hear the evangelist, who has been reported as pouring a few vials of wrath on the reporters sent to Paterson. Billy came around nobly with praise for the press' use of that power popularly credited to it, and asserted that if every newspaper was suppressed today crime would increase 100 per cent. Billy, accompanied by "Ma" Sunday and his assistants, met Mayor Mitchell at the city hall before the Press club meeting. The evangelist told Mr. Mitchell frankly that he did "not look like the kind of a man I would pick out for mayor of 5,000,000 people."

NOW YOUR CORN MUST GO

Dr. Hunt Discovers Method that Kills
Corns by Penetration. ONLY 10c.

That old corn, that stubborn corn, that soft corn, that sore corn, the corn that will come back, you can now get rid of it once and for all, for Dr. Hunt of Sidney, Ohio, has discovered the scientific principle that makes corns go easily and painlessly.

Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure does its work by penetration. That is Nature's own way. Goes to the very root of the corn. Corn lifts out, root, body and branch in two days. No paring. No dangerous caustic ingredients. No liquids to dry out. No bulky pads or greasy salves. Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure comes in ready-to-apply plaster form. Trim plaster exact size of corn and apply. More than two applications are seldom necessary for the most stubborn case. Your corn eases up at once. The soothing penetrating ingredient works without discomfort. In two days you have no corn. This is a doctor's discovery. The result of life-time study.

And a box-full costs you only ten cents. Guaranteed or money refunded. Sold by all druggists and shoe dealers. Or, send ten cents in stamps to American Chemical Company, Sidney, Ohio.

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Just massage MUSTEROLE in with the finger-tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

And there is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia).

Hupmobile

CAR OF THE AMERICAN FAMILY

Ask the Woman Who Drives

One woman who drives a Hupmobile, spoke for all others when she said:
 "I feel when I am driving the Hupmobile as though I were a part of the car—or as though it were a part of me."

She meant, of course, that the Hupmobile responded immediately to every impulse or direction she gave it.
 She meant that it is always as easily and completely under her control as her own movements.
 She meant that she always feels safe and sure and secure, because she always knows exactly what the Hupmobile will do under any and all circumstances.
 A woman knows, for instance, that the Hupmobile motor will not stall—and because it can not, therefore it's safest.
 She knows the turning radius of the Hupmobile is remarkably small for a car of its length. That makes it easy to handle.
 With a wheelbase of 119 inches, the Hupmobile will circle in a 40-foot street.
 The motor is so flexible that she gets along with a minimum of gear shifting.
 The steering is so easy that a child can guide the car almost without effort.
 The driving seat is made with a scientific regard for her comfort—with a high, restful back, and the seat cushion tilted at precisely the right angle.
 She gives no thought to emergencies which might require repairs, because she knows that repairs are so few and far between that they can safely be forgotten.
 The Hupmobile is always a source of pleasure to the woman who drives—or the woman who rides.
 That's why in every Hupmobile home there's a woman who is a Hupmobile enthusiast.
 Let us give the Hupmobile merit-test at your convenience.

If there is anything that Washington people delight in it is a good home talent minstrel show and the Eagles scored one grand success in their first ambitious attempt.

That certainly was some minstrel performance.

Billy Smith, who possesses an unusually fine voice, failed to do himself justice in the first verse of "When I Dream of Old Erin," but fully redeemed himself in the second verse and quartet chorus which brought one of the biggest encores of the evening.

Charles O. Updike was the very Prince of Interlocutors. In the costume, knickerbockers, frills and periwig of the Colonial gentleman, he was the personification of the part, taking his role with ease and ready wit.

It was the middle of the ensemble before the interlocutor announced the two end men stars, "Songbird Summers," and "Beef Bernhard," and there was something doing when they cakewalked in. Both were magnificent in scarlet and white striped suits, scarlet vests, the brightest of green ties and the biggest of diamonds.

That Summers was a "corker," a whole show in himself and became a local celebrity in one night. He was the typical, happy, rollicking minstrel artist, of truly professional attainments. A storm of applause after his song "The Little For That Rambled Right Along," brought him back again and again till he finally wound up with his own composition, "I've Got the Rheumatiz."

Louis Bernhard, who is really in the professional class, proved akin to a vaudeville entertainer, and was one high stepper.

The audience rose with the twenty seven performers, to wind up the ensemble with splendid volume in "The Star Spangled Banner," the folds of Old Glory waving in inspiration overhead.

The work of the chorus was throughout notably good, showing exceptional able training on the part of the musical director, Mr. Thos. P. Clancey, and the splendid orchestra, James J. Whelpley, leader, was one of the biggest factors in the success of the minstrels.

The first part was conducted in excellent professional style, the introductions of the end men made effectively and the ensemble well worked up to the climax.

The Olio was made up of entertaining specialty acts, introduced by Ray Smith in current topics.

Ralph Ott, who possesses rare talent as a whistler, delighted the audience with his whistling solos to orchestral accompaniment.

The Black Diamond quartet, Messrs W. J. Smith, Charles O. Updike, Edward O. Smith, Perce Pearce, proved immensely popular and C. E. Willson, "Military Coon," provoked many a laugh.

The closing number was a hit in musical extravaganza, "My Pickaninny Babe," tuneful and pretty in melody, beautifully staged and cleverly put on by a bunch of the burnt cork artists. It pictured a scene of the Old Cabin Home, with "Liza Jackson" (Wm. Smith) crooning lullabies to her pickaninny babe and her grey haired old husband (Rankin Paul) a second old Black Joe. Both did capital work in their roles.

A bunch, invited for a cake walk and dance, convulsed the audience with great make-ups and high doings. There was Mandy Lee (Sidney Katz), whose Tipperary bow was worth the price of admission, and who paired off with Parson Jones (Perce Pearce) in a cake walk and dance that introduced all kinds of "highfalutin" steps; there was Opal White (Louis Bernhard), a fetching black belle in large picture hat; Lucy Lee (Glenn Brock), a heart smasher, and Libby Johnson (Earl Binn) another charmer with three lady killers; Deacon Black (E. W. Harvey); Elder Brown (Wm. Turner); Rastus Hill (Frank Ellis) The entire company assisted behind the scenes.

The electric light effects were particularly beautiful in this little scene.

Throughout the performance the spot lights and electrical effects added greatly to the artistic success.

The stage decorations, elaborate and beautiful were furnished by Leo Katz & Co., and the piano furnished by Summers & Son. Sam Lydy, property man, deserves special mention for his well executed stage work and good handling of the property.

GENERAL OFFENSIVE IS AT HAND IN WEST ZONE

Weakening of German Resistance in West is Seen and French Offensive is Expected to Be Signal For Renewed Activity—Russ Continue Advance—Germans Renew Offensive in Poland—Italian Officers Ordered to Dull Metal of Equipment—Attempt to Turn Russ Flank Fails.

By Associated Press.
London, April 13.—Field Marshal Sir John French's message to his countrymen at home that "I know when the time comes for us to make our great move we can break through the Germans," and the British eye-witness statement yesterday that there are plain signs of the "gradual weakening of the German resistance," are accepted here as an intimation that the present steady pressure on the western front will shortly develop into events of vaster scope.

It is thus expected, that the next three months will be especially memorable in this epoch making war.

Military writers are of the opinion that the reported French "successes" between the Meuse and the Moselle, an important region stretching between the rival fortresses of Verdun and Metz, have given a promising opening for the spring campaign. They regard it as the signal for the general offensive movement.

General Joffre is giving another twist to the screw of the vice, where-with he hopes to grip the German positions of St. Mihiel.

The Russian offensive in the Carpathians continues to meet a strenuous defense, and although it appears to be slowly winning its way toward the plains of Hungary, it has encountered enormous difficulty. To relieve the pressure on the Russians is an additional reason for the activity of their allies in the west.

The rumor from Cologne, that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg had asked for reinforcements to the extent of 300,000 men to undertake another campaign against Warsaw, is doubted.

An Austrian attack, designed to turn the left flank of the Russian army and so threaten lines of communication which supply the Russians fighting in the Beskid range of the Carpathians, has been defeated.

London, April 13.—The German attack in the north has been resumed, and another battle is in progress for possession of the important Russian fortress of Ossowetz.

Petrograd declared the siege of this fortress was given up some time ago, along with the advance on Warsaw from the north, but it is now said semi-officially at the Russian capital that the invaders have brought up howitzers and begun a new bombardment.

Fire rafts also are being used by the Germans, a report says. One of the German siege batteries is said to have been damaged badly by the Russian guns.

Five independent Austrian armies are operating along the Carpathian front. Petrograd newspapers say the various Austrian armies are under direction of the German General Staff. It is also said that Emperor William personally is supervising the work of the staff.

In Bukowina heavy fighting is in progress. Of two Austrian armored trains, says the report, which advanced against the Russians yesterday, one is said to have been blown up and the other forced to withdraw after being damaged.

The "highest German authority" in Rome has denied reports that Germany is considering peace negotiations. From this source comes the statement that the German General Staff has made plans for resumption of the offensive with fresh vigor.

The Italian military authorities have ordered all army officers to dull the metal on their uniforms and scabbards. This is described as a measure usually adopted on the eve of war.

Four small boats were smashed by the ice before rescuers reached the drowning men. Wives and children of the victims were among the crowd that stood on shore while the rescuers risked their own lives.

The Wayfarer, a liner of 6,200 tons, was the largest English vessel torpedoed since the war began.

KEEPING TAB ON HUERTA

New York, April 13.—It was reported today in Mexican circles that General Victoriano Huerta would hold important conferences here at once, to determine whether the time was ripe for Huerta to interfere in Mexico.

It was said that agents of the federal government here were keeping a close watch upon the movements of General Huerta, who arrived here yesterday from Spain.

RUSSIANS POUR INTO HUNGARY

London, April 13.—With the capture by the Russians of Hill 992 and the rest of the main chain of mountains the battle of the Carpathians, which has lasted upward of eighty days, has apparently come to an end over one extensive front, for the Russians are now moving by railways and roads along the rivers and streams down the southern slopes toward the plains of Hungary.

This movement, if it continues successfully, will, in the view of the Russian military authorities, compel the retirement with little or no fighting of the Austrians and Germans who are still north of the Carpathians to the east of Uzsoh pass and in eastern Galicia and Bukowina.

PUTS BAN ON SCHNAPS

Berlin, April 13.—The imperial government will shortly issue a decree prohibiting the sale of distilled liquors in saloons. "Schnaps," the traditional drink of the German workman, is to be unobtainable until the war is ended. The order is not to be a temperance measure, however, but is made necessary to conserve the supply of alcohol. Fearing a possible shortage of potatoes, from which product most of the spirits are distilled in Germany, the government proposes to make the new order "work both ways." No opposition is looked for against the order when it comes up for the sanction of the reichstag at its next session.

DISCLOSURES IN THE CASSIDY CASE

Cleveland, April 13.—James H. Cassidy, former congressman now sought by his bondsmen in two federal receiverships, had more than $2,000 in cash with him when he disappeared last Monday, according to disclosures in the investigation of transactions just prior to the time he dropped out of sight. This development is regarded as refuting the theory that Cassidy left Cleveland to raise funds with which to adjust discrepancies in his accounts as receiver of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Coal company and the Standard Contracting company.

DIVORCE DECREE FINALLY ISSUED

Miles Bland was granted a divorce in Common Pleas court Thursday from his wife, Annie Bland, on the ground of gross neglect of duty. This is a case which has been pending in the court for some time. At one time the wife applied for a divorce and after a while it was decided that they could again live happily together and they went back to their farm south of this city. The husband then deeded all of his property to the wife.

After a while the couple again agreed to disagree and the case was again brought up in court with the husband as plaintiff. It was heard some time ago and was finally decided by Judge Goldsberry Thursday. Besides a decree of divorce the plaintiff was awarded $1,000 alimony for the property which he deeded to the defendant after their former trouble. This amount is to be paid within three months. — Chillicothe News.

The Blands are former residents of Fayette county, it is understood.

SENSATIONAL SUIT IN MADISON COURT

Mrs. Ella Jones, daughter of Mrs. Louella Case, formerly of Mt. Sterling, known here, has filed suit in the Madison county common pleas court, asking for divorce from Bruce Paul Jones Jr. whom she charges with extreme cruelty, claiming he often struck her and drove her from home.

She asks the defendant be restrained from disposing of $25,000 worth of property. A damage suit also was filed by Mrs. Case in which she makes her son-in-law defendant, charging that defendant struck her in the face and broke her nose. $4,000 is the amount of damages asked.

STILL WORKING ON AUTOMATIC SYSTEM

Engineer Love, who built the new cables and other equipment of the Home Telephone Company last year, is still working on the plans for automatic equipment for the local system, and it is understood that the automatic will cost some $22,000 while farm line improvements under contemplation are expected to cost an additional $7,000.

From unofficial circles it is stated that the automatic equipment has already been purchased. Definite action is expected at any time.

Mammoth Fishing Industry Threatened

The shortage of the catch of fish as the result of the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea has become a serious matter to Europe, the extent of which is little realized in America.

Europe has been compelled to depend largely on these fisheries for fish supplies, for in the limited territory which constitutes the North Sea fishing grounds are found more than half of the fish produced on all the fishing grounds operated by Europeans.

A recent issue of the Geographical Magazine gives out interesting statistics which impress the seriousness of the war's effect in bringing about this shortage of fish supplies, transforming, with its war zones and counter war zones, its mined area and hostile fleet, in a few months time the richest food producing areas in Christendom into a region upon whose mastery may depend the starvation of one or the other of two of the mightiest nations of the earth.

It is said that in times of peace no other like area in all the seas ever has given to humanity such rich supplies of food as this narrow strait, separating Albion from the continent of Europe. More than in any other known region of the oceans the food fishes of the marine world seem to love to congregate there.

The fisher folk of the North Sea tried the aid of every new idea of science and art to increase the annual supply and during the year before the present war the catch amounted to a million and a quarter tons of fish. Counting two tons to the truck load and 30 feet to the truck, this would make a procession of fish trucks reaching across the United States from New York to San Francisco, via New Orleans.

With almost uncanny increase has been the supply which seemed to rise to growing world demands.

Today a hundred thousand Englishmen, tens of thousands of Germans, Belgians, French, Dutch, Danes, Scandinavians all of them engaged in the North Sea fisheries, are out of jobs, and fishing boats now sweep the sea for mines instead of seining for fish.

The marine fisheries of Europe are vastly more important to European countries than those in the United States waters can ever be to the American people. This is partly because Americans have no fishing grounds in the Atlantic Ocean comparable in richness to those of the North Sea; partly because the time is far remote when the population of North America will equal in density that of Europe and the consumption of fish be so great.

In America fish forms but a minor part of the daily diet and, the extensive American-originated system of fish culture makes easy a catch of fish in almost any territory.

But to Europe the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea is a calamity. How much of calamity is shown by the fact that Great Britain annually absorbs 500,000 tons of North Sea fish, which means 22 pounds per capita. This per capita represents the difference between plenty and hunger unless other foods can be found to take its place.

The same condition applies to Germany. That country, in addition to using all its own catch, has annually imported more than a million and a quarter barrels from other countries around the North Sea.

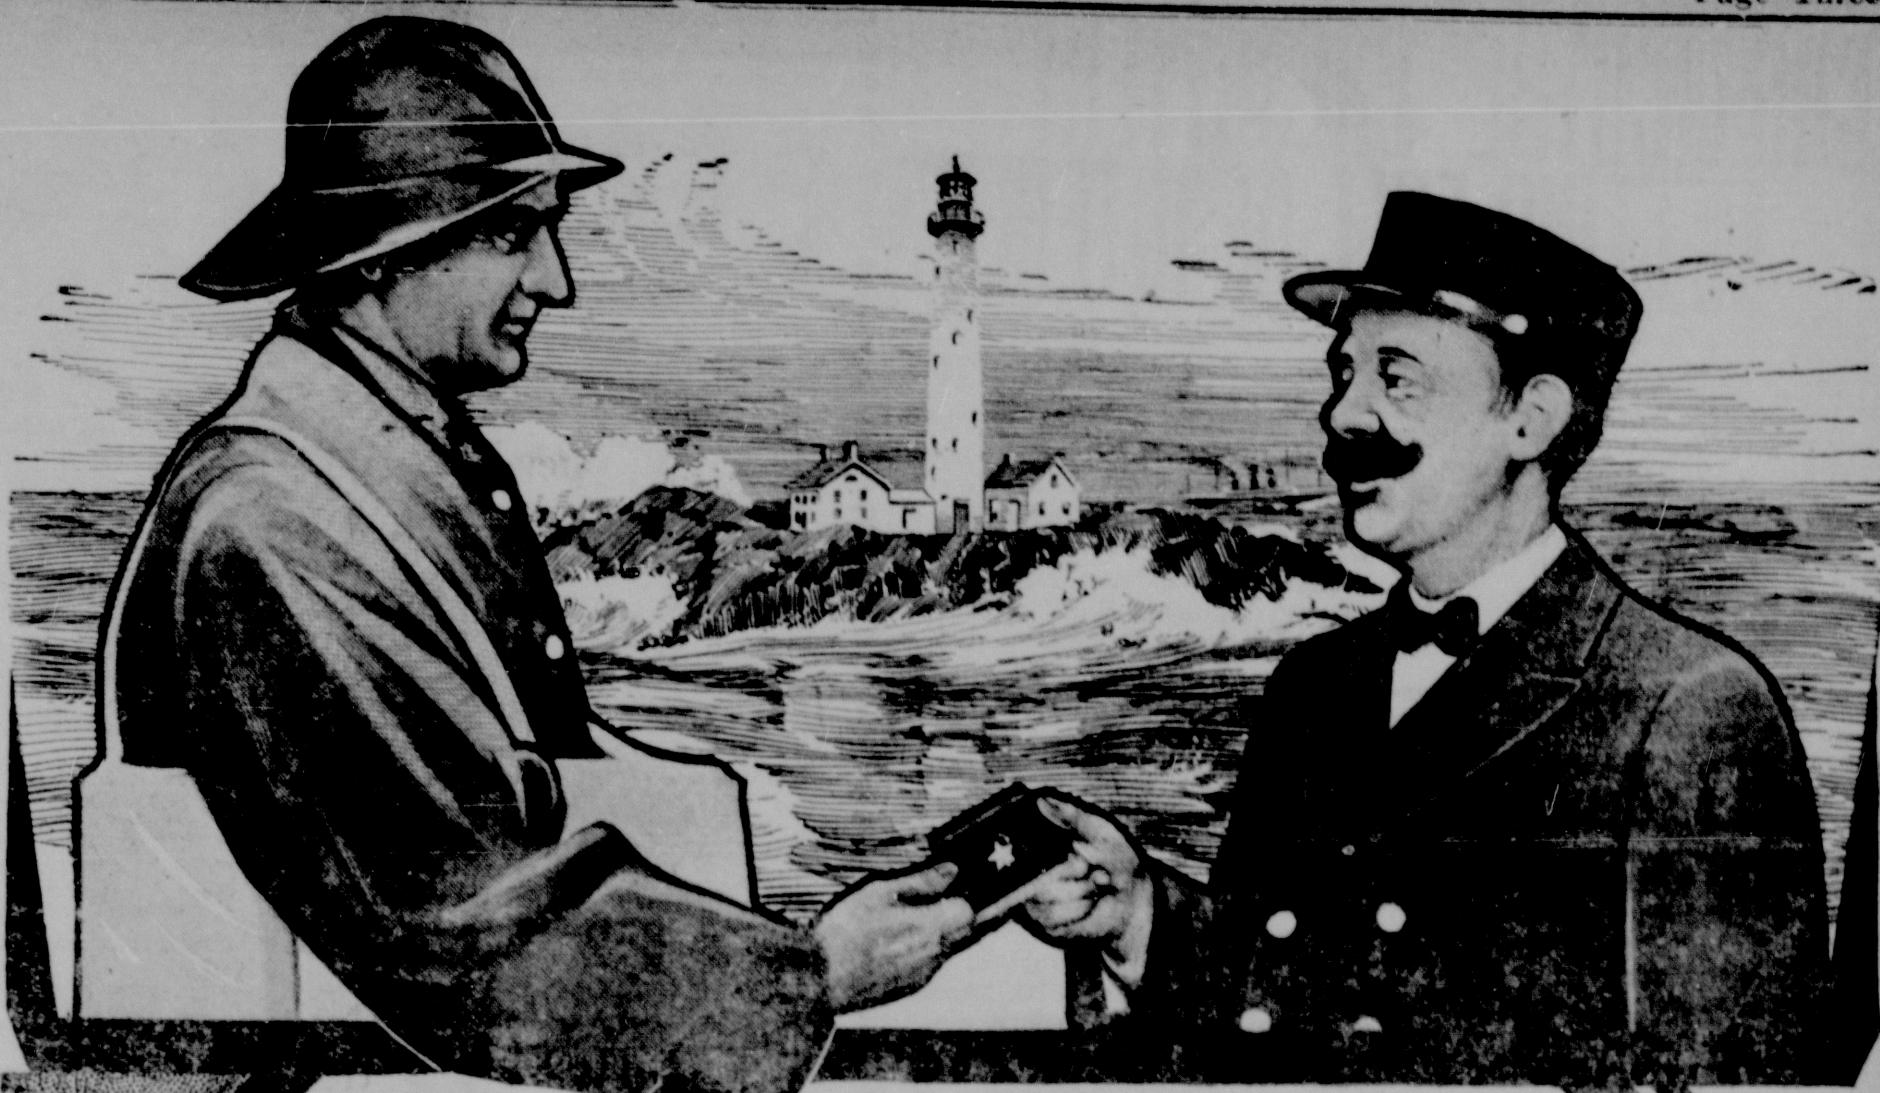

Neutral nations, as well as the countries at war, feel the pinch of the fish shortage. Holland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark feel it sorely from a production standpoint.

Switzerland suffers more from the consumption standpoint, that country normally buying nearly a million dollars worth of fish from the countries that border the North Sea. The Orkneys and the Shetland Islands have almost no other activity than the fishing industry. In France the fishing industry is scattered among a great many small ports. Grimsby is the fishing capital of the world, with an annual output of perhaps 300,000 tons of fish and the feverish excitement of the stockyards district of Chicago. Here as a hundred trawlers with their great bins full of overflowing from their latest catch, draw up to the fish dock, there is a swarming army of fishermen, porters, criers, dockers and packers, setting up an uproar that reminds one of an inferno.

The world's greatest middleman's fish market is at Billings Gate, for London devours over one and a half million pounds of fish every day in normal times.

But the war has curtailed the great fishing industry of the North Sea, put in jeopardy Europe's fish supply and deprived both countries at war and neutral countries of this food supply and the revenue it brings.

While, apparently, the North Sea fisheries are a side issue, and all connected with them, they are sharing in the wanton destruction of the present war.

THE FLUTES OF APRIL.

Don't you hear the flutes of April
calling clear and calling cool
From the crests that front the morning
from the hidden valley pool,
Rimes of rapture half forgotten,
tunes wherein old passions rule?

Passions for the sweet earth beauty
hidden long and hidden deep Underneath the seal of silence in
the vasts of winter sleep,
Now unleashed and now loosened
once again to pulse and leap!

Don't you hear the flutes of April,
like the ancient pipes of Pan,
Summoning each slumbering kindred,
summoning each drowsing clan,
Sounding a far borne reveille to the
laggard heart of man!

Bidding every seed to quicken, bidding
every root to climb,
Thrilling every thw and fiber as
with some ecstatic rhyme,
Setting floods of sap to dancing upward
in triumphant time!

Don't you hear the flutes of April
blowing under sun and star,
Virginal as is the dawning, tender
as dim twilights are,
With the vital breath of being prisoned
in each rhythmic bar?

With their lyric divination, presence of all things fair,
With their magic transmutation,
guardron for each soul to share,
Don't you hear the flutes of April
wafted down the April air?

DIVORCE DECREE FINALLY ISSUED

Miles Bland was granted a divorce in Common Pleas court Thursday from his wife, Annie Bland, on the ground of gross neglect of duty. This is a case which has been pending in the court for some time. At one time the wife applied for a divorce and after a while it was decided that they could again live happily together and they went back to their farm south of this city. The husband then deeded all of his property to the wife.

After a while the couple again agreed to disagree and the case was again brought up in court with the husband as plaintiff. It was heard some time ago and was finally decided by Judge Goldsberry Thursday. Besides a decree of divorce the plaintiff was awarded $1,000 alimony for the property which he deeded to the defendant after their former trouble. This amount is to be paid within three months. — Chillicothe News.

The Blands are former residents of Fayette county, it is understood.

SENSATIONAL SUIT IN MADISON COURT

Mrs. Ella Jones, daughter of Mrs. Louella Case, formerly of Mt. Sterling, known here, has filed suit in the Madison county common pleas court, asking for divorce from Bruce Paul Jones Jr. whom she charges with extreme cruelty, claiming he often struck her and drove her from home.

She asks the defendant be restrained from disposing of $25,000 worth of property. A damage suit also was filed by Mrs. Case in which she makes her son-in-law defendant, charging that defendant struck her in the face and broke her nose. $4,000 is the amount of damages asked.

STILL WORKING ON AUTOMATIC SYSTEM

Engineer Love, who built the new cables and other equipment of the Home Telephone Company last year, is still working on the plans for automatic equipment for the local system, and it is understood that the automatic will cost some $22,000 while farm line improvements under contemplation are expected to cost an additional $7,000.

From unofficial circles it is stated that the automatic equipment has already been purchased. Definite action is expected at any time.

LANCASTER IN LEAD

The Lancaster Men's Bible class again led in the contest between that class and the Copeland Class at Athens, the former having an attendance of 845, and the latter 759. Cambridge came next with 230 and Nelsonville with 211.

Mammoth Fishing Industry Threatened

The shortage of the catch of fish as the result of the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea has become a serious matter to Europe, the extent of which is little realized in America.

Europe has been compelled to depend largely on these fisheries for fish supplies, for in the limited territory which constitutes the North Sea fishing grounds are found more than half of the fish produced on all the fishing grounds operated by Europeans.

A recent issue of the Geographical Magazine gives out interesting statistics which impress the seriousness of the war's effect in bringing about this shortage of fish supplies, transforming, with its war zones and counter war zones, its mined area and hostile fleet, in a few months time the richest food producing areas in Christendom into a region upon whose mastery may depend the starvation of one or the other of two of the mightiest nations of the earth.

It is said that in times of peace no other like area in all the seas ever has given to humanity such rich supplies of food as this narrow strait, separating Albion from the continent of Europe. More than in any other known region of the oceans the food fishes of the marine world seem to love to congregate there.

The fisher folk of the North Sea tried the aid of every new idea of science and art to increase the annual supply and during the year before the present war the catch amounted to a million and a quarter tons of fish. Counting two tons to the truck load and 30 feet to the truck, this would make a procession of fish trucks reaching across the United States from New York to San Francisco, via New Orleans.

With almost uncanny increase has been the supply which seemed to rise to growing world demands.

Today a hundred thousand Englishmen, tens of thousands of Germans, Belgians, French, Dutch, Danes, Scandinavians all of them engaged in the North Sea fisheries, are out of jobs, and fishing boats now sweep the sea for mines instead of seining for fish.

The marine fisheries of Europe are vastly more important to European countries than those in the United States waters can ever be to the American people. This is partly because Americans have no fishing grounds in the Atlantic Ocean comparable in richness to those of the North Sea; partly because the time is far remote when the population of North America will equal in density that of Europe and the consumption of fish be so great.

In America fish forms but a minor part of the daily diet and, the extensive American-originated system of fish culture makes easy a catch of fish in almost any territory.

But to Europe the practical closing down of the fisheries of the North Sea is a calamity. How much of calamity is shown by the fact that Great Britain annually absorbs 500,000 tons of North Sea fish, which means 22 pounds per capita. This per capita represents the difference between plenty and hunger unless other foods can be found to take its place.

The same condition applies to Germany. That country, in addition to using all its own catch, has annually imported more than a million and a quarter barrels from other countries around the North Sea.

Neutral nations, as well as the countries at war, feel the pinch of the fish shortage. Holland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark feel it sorely from a production standpoint.

Switzerland suffers more from the consumption standpoint, that country normally buying nearly a million dollars worth of fish from the countries that border the North Sea. The Orkneys and the Shetland Islands have almost no other activity than the fishing industry. In France the fishing industry is scattered among a great many small ports. Grimsby is the fishing capital of the world, with an annual output of perhaps 300,000 tons of fish and the feverish excitement of the stockyards district of Chicago. Here as a hundred trawlers with their great bins full to overflowing from their latest catch, draw up to the fish dock, there is a swarming army of fishermen, porters, criers, dockers and packers, setting up an uproar that reminds one of an inferno.

The world's greatest middleman's fish market is at Billings Gate, for London devours over one and a half million pounds of fish every day in normal times.

But the war has curtailed the great fishing industry of the North Sea, put in jeopardy Europe's fish supply and deprived both countries at war and neutral countries of this food supply and the revenue it brings.

While, apparently, the North Sea fisheries are a side issue, and all connected with them, they are sharing in the wanton destruction of the present war.

"STAR—The Chew of Good Cheer"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

WHEN a ship loses its bearings in the dead of night, the crew are mighty glad to see the reassuring glow of the Lighthouse. And when real danger threatens—the life-savers man the boats, and human lives are saved.

Not many people envy the work of these men—they think it lonely. But these big bodied, able fellows have something that has proved an all-time antidote for loneliness for all men. Whether by themselves or with the "crowd"—they chew tobacco. And most of them chew STAR.

They chew STAR because of the complete comfort found in every plug. Because of the inimitable STAR quality, the honest weight and the thick, tightly packed, tasty plug that gives them more of the mellow chewing inside leaf.

After the "trial bite" you'll want STAR for a pocket-pal, whether you work all day in an office or in the great outdoors.

Join the great company of STAR BOOSTERS to-day—you'll find them good men and true—men who've made America the leading nation of the world and STAR, the world's biggest selling brand.

THE FLUTES OF APRIL.

Don't you hear the flutes of April calling clear and calling cool From the crests that front the morning from the hidden valley pool, Runes of rapture half forgotten, tunes wherein old passions rule?

Passions for the sweet earth beauty hidden long and hidden deep Underneath the seal of silence in the vast of winter sleep. Now unleashed and now unloosened once again to pulse and leap!

Don't you hear the flutes of April, like the ancient pipes of Pan, Summoning each slumbering kindred, summoning each drowsing clan, Sounding a far borne reveille to the laggard heart of man?

Bidding every seed to quicken, bidding every root to climb, Thrilling every thew and fiber as with some ecstatic rhyme, Setting floods of sap to dancing upward in triumphant time!

Don't you hear the flutes of April blowing under sun and star, Virginal as is the dawning, tender as dim twilights are, With the vital breath of being prisoned in each rhythmic bar?

With their lyric divination, prescience of all things fair, With their magic transmutation, guerdon for each soul to share, Don't you hear the flutes of April waffled down the April air?

CHILLICOTHE PRESBYTERY MEETING FULL OF INTEREST

LARGE NUMBER OF DELEGATES FROM ALL OVER DISTRICT IN ATTENDANCE — REV. GAGE IS NEW MODERATOR, AND MR. J. W. ROTHROCK IS ELECTED ELDER TO ATTEND NATIONAL ASSEMBLY — SPLENDID REPORTS RECEIVED FROM ALL CHURCHES.

The Presbytery of Chillicothe convened at 3 p. m. Monday, April 12, 1915, in the church at Washington C. H., Fayette county, Ohio. Owing to unavoidable delay in the arrival of the Moderator, Rev. S. L. Gear of South Salem, the Rev. T. C. Kerr of Bloomingburg, being the last preceding moderator present, called the Presbytery to order, after prayer.

The Lord's Supper was observed. The Rev. J. A. Miller, Synodical Evangelist, presided at the distribution of the bread and Rev. P. J. Henness of Washington C. H., at the distribution of the wine. After which the Moderator, who had arrived, preached the opening sermon from the words of the eighth verse of the thirteenth chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews, "Jesus Christ the Same Yesterday and Today, and Forever."

Presbytery was then officially constituted by prayer being led by the Moderator.

The roll was then made up by the Stated Clerk, Rev. Jas. G. Galbreath, of Waverly, O., and is as follows:

Ministers—W. B. Gage, W. C. Stinson, D. L. Chapin, J. G. Galbreath, T. S. Huggart, A. S. Kaye, P. J. Henness, Freely Rohrer, D. A. Kerns-Preston, W. H. Shields, T. C. Kerr, S. L. Gear, A. J. Marbet, Jas. L. M. McWilliams.

At the opening session the organization was effected by the election of Rev. W. B. Gage Moderator, and Rev. S. L. Gear, temporary clerk. The minutes of the last stated meeting at Hillsboro and the two called meetings at Greenfield, were read and the records thereof approved. The proceedings with reference to a county pastor for the church of Washington C. H. were reopened to a Judicial Committee consisting of Rev. W. C. Stinson, Rev. Freely Rohrer and Elder E. P. May.

Rev. F. A. Miller, of Washington C. H. and Rev. Phillips, of Chillicothe, were invited to sit as corresponding members.

In the evening thirty minutes of devotional and praise service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Miller, after which an interesting and instructive address on the subject of the Country Church Problem, was delivered by Rev. Dr. W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State University.

Wednesday Session.

The Presbytery convened in executive session at eight o'clock in the morning. One of its first acts was to request Rev. J. G. Galbraith, Stated Clerk, to send greetings to five older pastors, missed in the meeting—Rev. George Carpenter, former pastor in this city; Dr. S. D. Crothers, Greenfield; Rev. Robt. C. Galbraith, Chillicothe; Dr. W. J. McSurely, D. D., Oxford; Dr. M. D. A. Stein, of Worthington.

The opening devotional service was led by Dr. Henness, at 9 o'clock, one of the executive acts of the morning was the enrollment of the First Presbyterian church of this city upon the records of Presbytery as a Collegiate Church. Dr. Carey Persinger was then added to the list of delegates.

Various reports were listened to with interest. The commission appointed to organize a church at Fall Creek, reported that the church had been organized and placed upon the roll of Presbytery.

Dr. Shields, of Hillsboro, gave the report from Wooster University, and also reported for the committee on Narrative of the State of Religion, the report indicating a prosperous year.

Rev. Rohrer, of Greenfield, reported on Ministerial Relief.

One of the morning's session most important acts was the election of Rev. D. A. Kerns-Preston, of Bainbridge, as the ministerial delegate to the meeting General Assem-

AGED JEFFERSONVILLE MAN RETURNED TO JAIL UNDER $500 BOND — HAS BEEN IN TOILS BEFORE ON SIMILAR CHARGE.

John Briley, aged Jeffersonville man, who was brought here by D. T. & I. train, March 28, has been bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond. There is no indication that money will be raised to secure his temporary release.

Briley was in the hands of authorities about four years ago on a similar charge. Jeffersonville people who know Briley, believe that he was intoxicated when the alleged act was committed, declaring that when sober he has always conducted himself in an irreproachable manner.

It is the ambition of every Elder in the Presbytery to represent that august body in General Assembly, and Mr. Rothrock is to be congratulated upon having that high honor conferred upon him.

Rev. Harry Hadley, of Martins Ferry, the only member who has been ordained in the ministry from the local Presbyterian church, was made a corresponding member of the Presbytery and the same courtesy was extended to Rev. F. E. Ross, of Grace church, who convened with the sessions.

At noon the Ladies' Guild served a delicious chicken pie dinner in the basement dining room of the church, the tables beautifully decorated.

The ministerial body relaxed from the day's business to enjoy a thoroughly social hour.

At the close of the dinner Rev. Mr. Pugh, Synodical Supt., of the Home Mission Board of Ohio, addressed the assembly, stirring to greater activity, zeal in this great work.

The Presbytery is engaged in its last session this afternoon.

AT THE PALACE

Annette Kellermann, The Perfect Woman in "Neptune's Daughter."

Annette Kellermann, the diving Venus is in the title role of "Neptune's Daughter," a spectacular photo-play which comes to the Palace Theater, Wednesday and Thursday, April 14-15, beginning with the Wednesday matinee. She will combine with her aquatic performance a dramatic exhibition that few people, perhaps, believe her possessed of. "Neptune's Daughter" is unquestionably one of the most magnificent photo-plays ever seen in America. In the eight parts which require two hours and thirty minutes for exhibition, there are hundreds of thrilling scenes of interest and rare beauty.

Miss Kellermann has demonstrated in her appearance as a star in

"Neptune's Daughter" that she can do more than swim—she can act. Those who saw Miss Kellermann in vaudeville will see her to even better advantage when they gaze upon her as a mermaid in "Neptune's Daughter." It is safe to predict that no more beautiful picture has ever been seen on any stage than the transformation, wherein Miss Kellermann is changed by the power of the sea witch, from a mermaid to a human being. As a real mermaid, Miss Kellermann presents a most striking picture, and demonstrates the possibility of her swimming with ease and grace, although her feet and hands are tightly bound together.

Among the most thrilling and dramatically effective scenes is the desperate and sensational fight below the water, between Miss Kellermann and the villain.

This photoplay enjoyed the longest run in New York of any photoplay, playing at the Globe Theater for more than eight months.

"Neptune's Daughter" will be shown at the Palace Theater two days, Wednesday and Thursday, April 14-15. Matinee both days at 2:15. adv

Non-Taxable Investments The Geiger-Jones Co Henderson & Wright Representatives Room 7 Pavey Building

The following clipping is by the financial editor of the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, Friday, April 2:

"Before the end of the year the capacity of the Burton-Townsend Brick company of Zanesville will have been doubled by the addition of new equipment to cost $500,000. This is interesting news to Columbus stockholders, who yesterday received their quarterly 1 1/2 per cent dividend on the preferred stock. The output of the present plant, combined with the new equipment, has been sold out for several months to come. With natural resources that are said to be unequalled, together with a coal mining property south of Zanesville that furnishes more coal than necessary for the operation of the plants, officials are pleased at the prospects. The earnings for the last quarter, according to reports, have been the largest in the history of the company."

STOCK FOR SALE.

We sell 7 per cent preferred stock in this Burton-Townsend Co., at par. It is non-taxable, non-assessible cumulative and participating — all desirable qualities for first-class stock. The stock issue will soon all be sold, so see us soon.

FOUR NOW DEFY THE GOVERNOR

Columbus, April 13.—Refusing Governor Willis' demand for their resignations, four members of state commissions sent some rather warm replies to the governor's letters.

There has been received in response to fourteen letters, by the governor only one resignation, that of C. C. Williams, Republican, of Wooster, from the agricultural board. Four, who have sent formal declarations that they will not resign, are Charles H. Bryson, Progressive, civil service commission, and all three members of the industrial commission, Wallace D. Yable and T. J. Duffy, Democrats, and M. B. Hammond, Republican.

While the nine other officials have not yet made formal reply to the governor's request for their resignations, most of them have made public declaration that they will not vacate. They are expected to send in formal refusals this week.

Commissioner Hoskins, Democrat, of the civil service board, says he will resign, but that he intends to fix the date himself and that he does not intend to be in any hurry about it. Meanwhile the civil service commission is planning to investigate alleged violations of the civil service law by Governor Willis. Commissioner Bryson made sharp reply to the governor's letter in which the latter had defended his actions concerning civil service appointments.

Bryson's Reply.

In his letter declining to resign, Commissioner Bryson tells the chief executive he is wrong in assuming that he (the governor) is "captain" of the civil service organization. "The civil service commissioners, under the law, are the 'captains,' charged with the full responsibility of the entire work," he said. "The commission has its own lieutenants and the work is being well done. The governor has no official duties here. He has no business here."

M. M. Hammond, Republican, made the sharpest and most pointed reply of the three members of the industrial commission called upon to resign. He told the governor that, though he (Willis) may be entitled to consider himself the chief spokesman for the majority who elected him, he is "not the only agency intrusted with the task of interpreting the will of the majority." He quoted freely from the governor's inaugural address and his initial message to the general assembly to show that the executive's attitude in demanding resignations is inconsistent.

Commissioner Yable wrote the governor: "My hope has been that a spirit of friendly co-operation might prevail to the end that the victory which this department has fairly won in its long contest with interests adverse to those of the employers and the employees of the state might be secure. I still hope for such co-operation."

Governor Willis has not indicated what steps he will take to force compliance with his demands.

PRICE LOSES HIS POSITION

Columbus, April 13.—H. C. Price, Republican member of the agricultural commission, will not have a place after July 1. He was appointed by virtue of his position as dean of the agricultural college at Ohio State university. The law providing for the commission specifies that one member is to be dean.

Last Friday Governor Willis called upon the other three members of the commission for their resignations. Then, it was said, that because the law made the provision for the dean's appointment, the fourth member was safe from removal at the insistence of the governor. It has developed that the university trustees, at their March meeting, had asked Professor Price to step out as dean July 1. The action was kept secret. Losing his position as dean, Professor Price automatically would be barred from further service on the state board. No reason has been given by the trustees for their action.

KRON PRINZ WILHELM TO PUT TO SEA?

Newport News, Va., April 13.—Lieutenant Captain Thierfelder of the German converted cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which dashed into this port through a patrol of four enemy ships, declares that he will put to sea again in a fortnight.

The same determined spirit was evidenced by the German commanding officer in an informal conversation he had with Collector of the Customs Hamilton. To Collector Hamilton he intimated that he was obliged to hasten the work of repairing his ship because he must resume his naval duties at sea in behalf of his government.

There was a disposition here, however, to take with a grain of salt the German's declaration of his bold purposes. These were almost identical with the statements made by Captain Thierfelder of the Eltel Friedrich before he requested permission to intern.

It was learned from an authoritative source that despite the high speed which the engines of the Kron Prinz were able to develop in her dash for this port, she is in anything but a proper condition for a renewal of her long voyage. There are reasons for believing that Captain Thierfelder suspects his ship is leaking. The ship's boilers are also in bad condition and her sides dented in many places from the impact of enemy ships from which she coasted at sea. The same form of procedure followed in dealing with the Eltel was initiated by Collector Hamilton in interchanges with Captain Thierfelder.

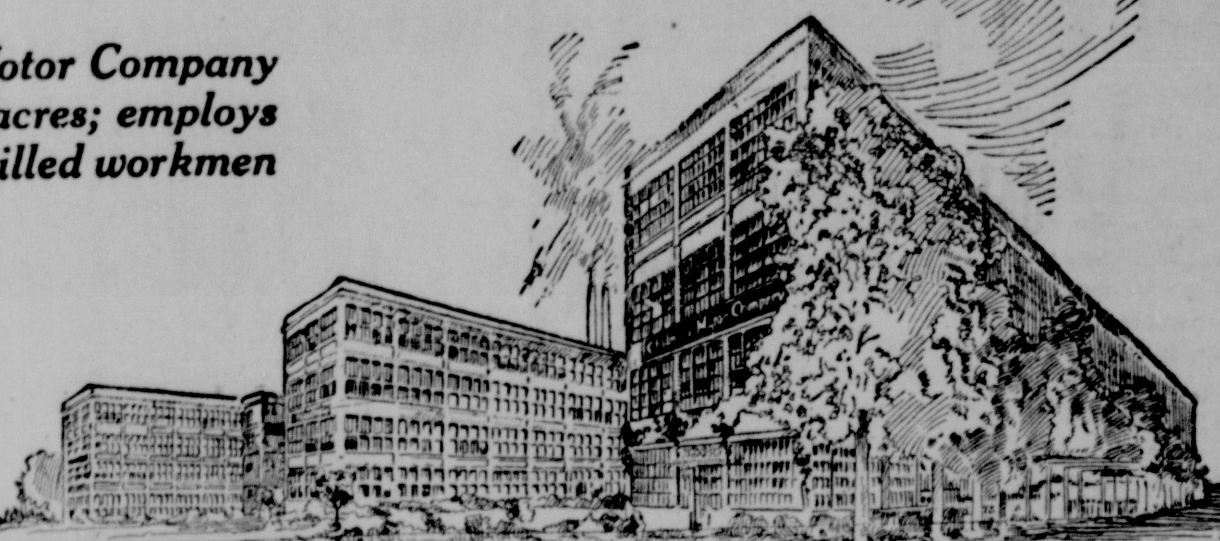

HAS PRAISE FOR PRESS

New York, April 13.—Newspapers are the greatest moral force in the community, Billy Sunday told the crowd which jammed the New York Press club to hear the evangelist, who has been reported as pouring a few vials of wrath on the reporters sent to Paterson. Billy came around nobly with praise for the press' use of that power popularly credited to it, and asserted that if every newspaper was suppressed today crime would increase 100 per cent. Billy, accompanied by "Ma" Sunday and his assistants, met Mayor Mitchell at the city hall before the Press club meeting. The evangelist told Mr. Mitchell frankly that he did "not look like the kind of a man I would pick out for mayor of 5,000,000 people."

Hupmobile

CAR OF THE AMERICAN FAMILY

Ask the Woman Who Drives

One woman who drives a Hupmobile, spoke for all others when she said: "I feel when I am driving the Hupmobile as though I were a part of the car—or as though it were a part of me."

She meant, of course, that the Hupmobile responded immediately to every impulse or direction she gave it.

She meant that it is always as easily and completely under her control as her own movements.

She meant that she always feels safe and sure and secure, because she always knows exactly what the Hupmobile will do under any and all circumstances.

A woman knows, for instance, that the Hupmobile motor will not stall—and because it can not, therefore it's safest.

She knows the turning radius of the Hupmobile is remarkably small for a car of its length. That makes it easy to handle.

With a wheelbase of 119 inches, the Hupmobile will circle in a 40-foot street.

The motor is so flexible that she gets along with a minimum of gear shifting.

The steering is so easy that a child can guide the car almost without effort.

The driving seat is made with a scientific regard for her comfort—with a high, restful back, and the seat cushion tilted at precisely the right angle.

She gives no thought to emergencies which might require repairs, because she knows that repairs are so few and far between that they can safely be forgotten.

The Hupmobile is always a source of pleasure to the woman who drives—or the woman who rides.

That's why in every Hupmobile home there's a woman who is a Hupmobile enthusiast.

Let us give the Hupmobile merit-test at your convenience.

1,000 WITNESS SUPERB WORK OF THE EAGLES' MINSTRELS

An aggregation of surprising hits, great ensemble numbers, orchestral talent, screamingly funny musical comedy that was a treat in itself, jokes sprung for the first time, dancers and novelty entertainers, transformed the Empire Theater, Wednesday night into "Hilarity Hall" and achieved undying fame in the realm of minstrelsy for the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

If there is anything that Washington people delight in it is a good home talent minstrel show and the Eagles scored one grand success in their first ambitious attempt.

That certainly was some minstrel performance.

For nearly three hours between 900 and 1,000 people, packing the theater, revelled in a musical revue of tuneful erotic ballads, catchy song

How Vinol Made Her Strong

Beallsville, Ohio.—"I wish all nervous, weak, run-down women could have Vinol. I was so run-down, weak and nervous I could not sleep. Everything I ate hurt me, and the medicine I had taken did me no good. I decided to try Vinol, and before long I could eat anything I wanted and could sleep all night. Now I am well and strong, and in better health than I have been for years."

Billy Smith, who possesses an unusually fine voice, failed to do himself justice in the first verse of "When I Dream of Old Erin," but fully redeemed himself in the second verse and quartet chorus which brought one of the biggest encores of the evening.

Charles O. Updike was the very Prince of Interlocutors. In the costume, knickerbockers, frills and periwig of the Colonial gentleman, he was the personification of the part, taking his role with ease and ready wit.

It was the middle of the ensemble before the interlocutor announced the two end men stars, "Songbird Summers," and "Beef Bernhard," and there was something doing when they cakewalked in. Both were magnificent in scarlet and white striped suits, scarlet vests, the brightest of green ties and the biggest of diamonds.

That Summers was a "corker," a whole show in himself and became a local celebrity in one night. He was the typical, happy, rollicking minstrel artist, of truly professional attainments. A storm of applause after his song "The Little Ford That Rambled Right Along," brought him back again and again till he finally wound up with his own composition, "I've Got the Rheumatiz."

Louis Bernhard, who is really in the professional class, proved akin to a vaudeville entertainer, and was one high stepper.

The audience rose with the twenty seven performers, to wind up the ensemble with splendid volume in "The Star Spangled Banner," the folds of Old Glory waving in inspiration overhead.

The work of the chorus was throughout notably good, showing exceptional able training on the part of the musical director, Mr. Thos. P. Clancey, and the splendid orchestra, James J. Whelpley, leader, was one of the biggest factors in the success of the minstrels.

The first part was conducted in excellent professional style, the introductions of the end men made effectively and the ensemble well worked up to the climax.

The Olio was made up of entertaining specialty acts, introduced by Ray Smith in current topics.

Ralph Ott, who possesses rare talent as a whistler, delighted the audience with his whistling solos to orchestral accompaniment.

The Black Diamond quartet, Messrs W. J. Smith, Charles O. Updike, Edward O. Smith, Perce Pearce, proved immensely popular and C. E. Willson, "Military Coon," provoked many a laugh.

The closing number was a bit in musical extravaganza, "My Pickaninny Babe," tuneful and pretty in melody, beautifully staged and cleverly put on by a bunch of the burnt cork artists. It pictured a scene of the Old Cabin Home, with "Liza Jackson" (Wm. Smith) crooning lullabies to her pickaninny babe and her grey haired old husband (Rankin Paul) a second old Black Joe. Both did capital work in their roles.

A bunch, invited for a cake walk and dance, convulsed the audience with great make-ups and high doings. There was Mandy Lee (Sidney Katz), whose Tipperary bow was worth the price of admission, and who paired off with Parson Jones (Perce Pearce) in a cake walk and dance that introduced all kinds of "highfalutin" steps; there was Opal White (Louis Bernhard), a fetching black belle in large picture hat; Lucy Lee (Glenn Brock), a heart smasher, and Libby Johnson (Earl Binns) another charmer with three lady killers; Deacon Black (E. W. Harvey); Elder Brown (Wm. Turner); Rastus Hill (Frank Ellis) The entire company assisted behind the scenes.

The electric light effects were particularly beautiful in this little scene.

Throughout the performance the spot lights and electrical effects added greatly to the artistic success.

The stage decorations, elaborate and beautiful were furnished by Leo Katz & Co., and the piano furnished by Summers & Son. Sam Lydy, property man, deserves special mention for his well executed stage work and good handling of the property.
